University of Florida Judaica Suite

The University of Florida's Judaica Suite was opened in 2014, designed by renowned architect Kenneth Treister to showcase rare and exceptional books from the Isser and Rae Price Library of Judaica. Study alcoves dedicated to particular facets of Jewish history and culture bring together two scholars at one table, echoing the Jewish rabbinic tradition of chavruta, or studying in pairs. Every element of the Suite, from custom-made room fixtures and handmade furniture to artwork, sculptures, and rare chess sets works in harmony to create a gesamtkunstwerk, a total work of art.

The Suite provides a magnificent setting for faculty, students, and visitors to consult a world-class Judaica collection, to attend lectures by leading scholars, and to be part of conferences opening new avenues to cross-disciplinary scholarship. Jewish heritage is celebrated and people of all backgrounds come together in the Judaica Suite, which offers tours upon arrangement.

Please Note: All holidays begin at sundown on the evening before the date specified; each month is given its Hebrew calendar equivalent, and dates supplied in bold type are yom tovim (festival days), which have similar obligations and restrictions to the Sabbath in the sense that normal "work" is forbidden.
